Welcome!

Congregation Beth El-Keser I srael (BEKI) is a traditional egalitarian participatory Conservative synagogue community in the City of New Haven. The successor of the Rose Street Shul founded in 1892 and of Keser I srael from the same era, BEKI is the spiritual home for several hundred adults and children from New Haven and twenty-one surrounding communities. Located within the New Haven Eruv on bustling Whalley Avenue in the Westville neighborhood since 1959, BEKI offers an extensive program of educational, worship and social services for adults and children. BEKI is in the Connecticut Valley region of the United Synagogue of Conservative Judaism with which it is affiliated.

This auction is BEKI's major fundraising event of the year. Please give generously to support this great and growing synagogue and purchase some wonderful items as well.

Enjoy the evening!

BEKI wishes to thank all of our volunteers and especially the committee members who have spent many, many hours planning and setting up this event.
