Those Other Elections:
Israel and its Political Future

BEKI will host an eye-opening discussion about the upcoming Israeli elections on Saturday, Dec. 13, at 1 p.m., featuring visiting Yale scholar Hizky Shoham. The event is free and open to all.

The presentation will follow a Kosher, dairy Kiddush luncheon. This informal, festive meal is held at BEKI every Shabbat, prepared by BEKI volunteers and sponsored by BEKI members to build community. Lay-led Shabbat morning services begin at 9:15, and all are welcome to attend.

Hizky Shoham is currently the Jacob and Hilda Blaustein Postdoctoral Associate in Judaic Studies and a lecturer in Humanities and Religious Studies at Yale University.

Shoham earned his PhD with highest distinction from Bar-Ilan University in 2006. A book based on his dissertation, Mordecai is Riding the Horse: Purim Celebrations in Tel-Aviv (1908-1936) and the Building of a New Nation, is slated for publication by Bar-Ilan University Press.

At Bar Ilan, Shoham teaches in the interdisciplinary program for hermeneutics and culture studies and is a research fellow in the institute for advanced studies in Shalom Hartman Institute, Jerusalem. His main fields of research are modern Jewish history, classic Jewish texts, and cultural and social theory.

“Is it Kiddush Yet?”

Orders are now being taken for Is it Kiddush Yet, a collection of recipes from the BEKI Kiddush Committee. Each book costs $18. Look for order forms in the mid-month mailing, in the office, on the BEKI website at www.beki.org/forms.html, in the literature rack or by E-mailing Darryl (kuperst@aol.com).

BRS Update

BEKI Religious School celebrated the recent holidays in style! We did a lot of lulav and etrog shaking, and decorated, snacked, and enjoyed a wonderful Shabbat dinner in the BEKI sukka. Thank you to everyone who bought a lulav and etrog and thereby supported BRS while doing a mitzvah. Many thanks to Eric Dunsker who helped us prepare for Simhat Torah celebrating by teaching Israeli dances. The night of Simhat Torah I arranged a Torah on a table and listed on cards what was happening in Bereshit and Noah column by column. Students had lots of questions; many had never seen a Torah up close before.

Now that we have a more regular schedule for a few weeks, we began a school-wide colloquial Hebrew vocabulary program by learning the words for body parts and playing Shimon Omer (Simon Says). I started a Learning Circle a few minutes before tefilla (prayer) on Sundays when grades 3-7 talk about God and prayer and learn text skills. All classes began weekly parasha (the Bible selection read in synagogue) study and the new Israel curriculum supplemented by visits by Tslil, one of our shelihim (Young Emissaries). Come by the kindergarten/first grade room on a Sunday and listen to the kids sing with Mora Helene! It is just beautiful!

The Schwartz/Feldman and Sokolow/Silverman clans hosted BRS for a Shabbat Schmooze after services and qiddush in November. We are all looking forward to Mora Judy’s program for students and families on Erev Chanukah before we say goodbye for vacation. The BRS Parents Group is sponsoring a Chanukah candle sale. Candles are available Wednesdays and Sundays at school and in the office at other times. Other fun events that will help support BRS programming are being planned. Have ideas? Let us know!

Two-Way Traffic

The driveway from Harrison Street to the parking lot supports two-way traffic. (The “exit only” pattern is in force only for High Holy Days.) When exiting via the driveway, be sure to stop before crossing the sidewalk, in compliance with state traffic laws and in compliance with halakha (Jewish law) which strictly prohibits running over pedestrians.

Enter Only
The driveway ramp from Whalley Avenue to the parking area is for entrance only.

Stop & Go
The traffic light on Harrison Street at Whalley Avenue is controlled by a microwave sensor. It will detect a vehicle traveling at normal to slow (but not very slow) speed in the driving lane and will give Harrison Street a green light within two minutes. It may not detect a vehicle that approaches at less than 3 mph.

Ritual

Hanuka

Hanuka begins Sunday night, Dec. 21. Hanuka candles or lamps should be lit about 4:15 p.m. or 4:30 p.m. or later. The blessings for candle lighting are available as audio files at www.beki.org/audio.html and are printed in our prayerbook, Siddur Sim Shalom, on page 192 (weekday edition), page 242 (classic edition) or page 307 (Shabbat edition).

The Hanukiya (Hanuka Menora) will be lighted each evening (except Friday) at BEKI at 5:45 p.m., immediately before the Maariv evening service. It is also lighted during the morning for “decorative” purposes, although not in fulfillment of a specific mitzva.

Tefillin are worn each day of Hanuka (except, of course, on Shabbat). The passage “Al ha-Nisim – For the Miracles” is added to each amida, and Hallel, a collection of celebratory Psalms, is recited each morning. The Torah is read each day of Hanuka. Tahanun, the penitential prayer, is not recited.

New Siddurim for Shabbat in Daily Chapel

Copies of Siddur Sim Shalom for Shabbat & Festivals have been added to the George G. Posener Daily Chapel for use on Shabbatot and Festival afternoons and evenings. This prayerbook, published by the Rabbinical Assembly and United Synagogue of Conservative Judaism, incorporates a relatively user-friendly layout, selected transliterations, gender-sensitive language, and intelligible directions, all in a handy volume. Large-print copies of the same volume are also available for those who prefer larger type, and for service leaders.

These volumes are a gift of Willa Cooper Needler & Howard Needler and Family, in memory of their parents Edith Tepper Cooper & Harry Cooper. In making this contribution, Willa and Howard said:

Edith Tepper Cooper and Harry Cooper began their close-to-50-year involvement in the Hartford Jewish community by attending Friday evening Qabbalat Shabbat services at the Emanuel Synagogue. Their rabbi was Morris Silverman, editor of the original Sabbath and Festival Prayer Book for the United Synagogue of America [now the United Synagogue of Conservative Judaism]. It therefore seems a fitting tribute to our parents, Edith & Harry, that we are donating new Shabbat siddurim to BEKI in their memories.

Modest, quiet, and dignified, Edith and Harry lived their ideals. The certificates, awards, and testimonials honoring them add up to two lifetimes of hard work, devotion, and enormous love for synagogue and Jewish community. Both Edith and Harry worked for Jewish causes over the entire spectrum of Judaism.

Copies of the first edition of Sim Shalom that are in good condition will be retained for use at shiva minyans, at youth and adult retreats, and in other settings. Those wishing their own copies may purchase them at the Sisterhood Giftshop, from Amazon.com, or wherever fine Judaica is sold.

Weekday morning services at BEKI

Begin your day with spiritual renewal and fellowship. The Monday morning service (7 to 7:45) includes a brief Torah service, and is followed by the Rashi Study Group (7:45 to 8:30). Tuesday mornings (7 to 7:30) are attended by a unique mix of people. Wednesday mornings (7 to 7:30) features a continuing group of friends. Thursday mornings (8:15 to 9) are ideal for people who may not wish to rise earlier or who bring children to school, and includes a brief Torah service. It is perfect for those who wish to avoid crowds. Friday mornings (7 to 7:30) present an ideal setting for someone wishing to help develop a cadre of dedicated daily daveners.

In addition to fulfilling the daily mitzvot of qeriat shema (recitation of the Shema), tefila (prayer), Talmud Torah (study) and Tzedaga (charity), attendance also affords those in mourning a Minyan so that they can recite qaddish. Audio recordings of some of the prayers are available at the BEKI website under “Audio Library.” Regular participants in these services are always glad to welcome additional worshipers. Call our office at 389-2108 x14 or see www.beki.org/schedule.html for a complete schedule.

Maariv Evening Service
The daily maariv evening service comprises the recitation of the Shema and its accompanying blessings, as well as the individual recitation of the Amida. The maariv service (also known as arvit) provides an opportunity to fulfill the Biblical commandment of reciting the Shema at night as well as fulfilling the rabbinically mandated recitation of the Amida. An audio recording of the Shema is available in BEKI’s web Audio Library at www.beki.org/audio.html.

Liturgical Note
Beginning Thursday night, Dec. 4, in the Maariv service, we use the phrase “ve-ten tal u-matar li-verakha” (“give winter dew and rain in proportion”) in each daily amida. This blessing is a request for agricultural success and general prosperity. The date December 4 is based on the agricultural cycle in Bavel (Iraq) calculated according to the uncorrected Julian calendar. Although many sages tried to change the date to match that of their local weather needs or to those of the Land of Israel, the general public has refused (thus far) to change from the ways of their ancestors.

Important Tax Information

Taxpayers are reminded that synagogue dues, pledges and contributions are tax-deductible to the full extent of the law. BEKI is recognized as a 501(c)3 organization by the US Treasury. For many people it is advantageous to pay dues, pledges and contributions before the end of the tax year (for most people 31 December). It is also helpful to BEKI to receive your payment at an early date. Please consult your tax advisor for more information.

You can contribute stocks and securities directly to BEKI. For some, significant tax advantages can be realized by contributing appreciated stocks. IRS regulations usually allow the donor to deduct the appreciated value of the security. Illustration: You bought 100 shares of XYZ at $10 two years ago and it is now trading at $20. If you sell your shares, you realize a gain of $1,000, and pay $150 in taxes – net $850 profit. If you donate the shares directly to BEKI, you pay no taxes on the appreciation, saving $150 in taxes, and you receive a tax deduction for $2,000 – which could be worth $600 if you pay a marginal rate of 30%. That means your $2,000 donation “costs” you only $1,250.

Charitable contributions also avoid the penalty of the Alternative Minimum Tax (AMT). In addition, special tax advantages were created by Congress for certain contributions for the 2006 or 2007 year only. Please consult your tax or financial advisor for details.

Renovations Pledge Payments Welcome

Thanks to those who have already sent in payment on your Renovations Campaign pledge. Your payment now will reduce our expense in carrying a construction loan and other finance charges.

New Tax Law Makes IRA Giving Better

Recent legislation presents a special opportunity to make a gift to BEKI or the BEKI Religious School (or other not-for-profit) from your IRA without adverse tax consequences.

Lisa Stanger, Director of the Jewish Foundation of Greater New Haven (387-2424) and BEKI member, explains, “If you are 70 ½ or older, for a limited time (2008), you can instruct the trustee of your IRA to make a direct distribution of up to $100,000 per year to the charity of your choice. A direct distribution counts toward your annual IRA distribution requirement and it is tax neutral for federal and state tax purposes.”

Such a distribution can be used for a Renovations Campaign pledge, Annual Campaign contribution, to create an endowment for the benefit of the synagogue managed by the Jewish Foundation, or for other contributions. Stanger notes that “Unlike a cash withdrawal from your IRA, your direct contribution will be excluded from income for federal purposes and not taxed. It will not be eligible for a charitable tax deduction, but it will not count toward the percentage limitations on your other deductible gifts.”

Please speak with a qualified advisor before making a charitable IRA rollover gift.

Shabbat Shalom

Learners’ Minyan
The “Shabbat Shalom Learners’ Minyan,” which meets every other Saturday morning at 10:45 in BEKI’s Library Chapel, is an ideal setting for veteran and novice shul-goers alike to become more comfortable and proficient in the Shaharit (morning) and Torah services in a supportive setting. Expertly led by Steven Fraade, Rabbi Alan Lovins, Rabbi Murray Levine, Isaiah Cooper, Nadav Sela and others, the Shabbat Shalom Learners’ Minyan is a nurturing exploration of practice and theory presented in a participatory, non-threatening and multi-generational setting. Many members who take advantage of this unique offering feel a deeper sense of awe born of increased understanding and appreciation for the services. Everyone is welcome to participate regardless of religious status or background.

Kulanu Discussion Group
Adults who take part in the Kulanu Friendship Circle and the Saul’s Circle outreach programs are invited to participate in a Shabbat morning discussion group which meets on selected Shabbat mornings from 10:45 to 11:45 with Dr. Lauren Kempton. For information, contact Lauren at 389-2108 x33 or lkempton@beki.org.

Shabbat Minha Study Break
Each Shabbat afternoon following the Minha afternoon service during the autumn and winter, there will be a 30-minute study of Maimonides’ Mishne Torah: Laws of Kings and Their Wars, before the Maariv evening service and havdala. All are welcome.

Sundays

Talmud for Teens with Moshe Meiri
Serious high school students are invited to delve into the depths of Talmud with Moshe Meiri on Sunday mornings this autumn and winter. In this semester, the class is exploring chapter two of Masekhet Ketubot, “Halsha She-Nitarmela.” Students are expected to have studied some Mishna and be familiar with the Hebrew alphabet. An acquaintance with Rashi’s commentaries is helpful. Texts are vocalized for easy reading and are accompanied by an English commentary and translation. The classes meet Sunday mornings from 10 to noon. Instructor’s permission required; students wishing to enroll should speak with Moshe and should register with the office (office@beki.org). Registration and materials fee is $100 for the semester. Moshe may be reached at moshe@snet.net.

Mondays

Rashi Study Group
Each Monday morning from 7:45 to 8:30 adults meet in the Library Chapel to read Rashi’s commentary on the Torah. It is possible to join the study group for a single meeting or to begin at any time. Knowledge of Hebrew or Aramaic is helpful but not required. For location or information, contact Isaiah Cooper at 233-4547 or icooper@cooperlaw.net.

The Sanhedrin Study Group is reading chapter eight of Sanhedrin, “The Rebellious and Obnoxious Boy.” It is a perfect time for new participants to join.
A Message from Rabbi Tilsen

The Search for Truth

Seeking truth, as opposed to imposing truth, is an essential and characteristic endeavor of Jewish civilization. Learning is a fundamental and honored religious obligation – “Talmud Torah keneged kulam, study stands out from all the other mitzvot” (Talmud, Shabbat 127a and Siddur). The “Four Questions,” and the “Four Children” who ask questions, along with storytelling and reviewing rabbinic interpretation, express the essential nature of the Pesah seder as a quest for understanding.

In the classic rabbinic period, and until recently, rabbis and scholars were permitted to teach whatever they believed, even if it was contrary to accepted practice, as long as they complied with the law outside the classroom; they enjoyed what today is called “academic freedom.” The Talmud, if anything, is a record of divergent opinions on important matters and a source-book for re-creating great debates on law, politics and philosophy.

As a school of thought, as distinct from an institutionalized network of organizations, Conservative Judaism represents the continuation of mainstream traditional Judaism. Called “Historical Judaism” or “the Historical School” in the 19th century, today we might call it “Scientific Judaism,” inasmuch as it represents the trend in Jewish thought that embraces the social and natural sciences.

There have always been people who suspected that the creation stories in Genesis were “historical” accounts of the origin of the universe and of humanity. We now know that their suspicions were false. Practical implications? None. The lessons derived from the stories in Genesis – which are to some extent inconsistent with one another – were never premised on historicity. Rather, the brilliant and sublime lessons are based on the “story” or the “text” and its symbolic (or “ethical” or “political”) ideas, not the “history.”

Torah study is not so much about what to think, as how to think; or, at least, to think at all. As much as Jewish culture values labor, it also values intellect – and makes the radical claim that both can and should coexist and be valued in each individual and in society.

This is in contrast to classical Greek culture which, like other elite cultures, devalued labor. It is also in contrast to part of American society which derides scholarship, devalues science and ridicules the intellect in general. There is a set that prefers “faith” to “fact,” that prefers simplistic slogans to thoughtful analysis, a set that just won’t go past the one-page summary. In the view of some of our neighbors, universities are just day-care centers for overgrown infants. The laws of evolution and workings of human biology are forbidden knowledge to be suppressed. The measure of our leaders is their theatrical skills, their sex appeal, or their willingness to shoot a moose or other innocent creature such as their hunting partner.

Tevya the Milkman studied Talmud in the beit midrash. Yes, the great sages all had real jobs as shoemakers, farmers or merchants; and yes, we honor people who have accomplishments and talents in many fields; and yes, it is often the businesspeople and merchants who have leadership roles in Jewish communities. But none of that need be at all contrary to honoring study, learning, and the search for truth.

Most importantly, knowledge it is not the property of rabbis and scholars, but rather, it is for the people. One of the worst distortions of Jewish life has come about because too many people have to depend on rabbis for their understanding and interpretation of Jewish law and tradition. Specialists have their place, but a functioning Jewish society depends on a broadly-educated public, just as a democracy depends on a public knowledgeable in matters of public health, law, science and politics.

Our traditional Jewish cultural outlook, while having idealistic tendencies, is ultimately “reality based.” Science and education are honored because they are so in accord with our traditional epistemology. A judge is exhorted to rule based on the evidence, not conjecture or “belief.” Law is determined by vote, not divine fiat. Our sacred texts should shine in the light of knowledge and science, and not obscure or overshadow them.

Because Judaism is as much about a process as it is content, the specifics of generally-held beliefs are bound to change, develop and evolve. It is truly extraordinary that we honor and sanctify our three-thousand five-hundred year old literary history, instead of repressing it. The existence of that record, and the progress that it shows, is a great tribute to the efficacy of our approach. We should take pride in realizing that some of our beliefs are different from those of our ancestors, just as much as we take pride in upholding their essential values and practices. In compliance with natural laws, it is our ability to evolve and develop that has enabled us to survive and thrive as a people. Free inquiry, academic freedom, popular and specialized study, and the legitimacy of dissenting viewpoints are the genetic material and process that enables this evolution.
