Sukka Setup

Time to get ready for Sukkot! This “Feast of Booths” is considered by many the most joyous festival on the Hebrew calendar. Sukkot begins the night of Friday 10 October 2003.

On Tuesday 7 October – the day after Yom Kippur – we will reassemble the BEKI Super-Sukka, which is dedicated to the memory of Morris “Moishe” Schnitman. We will need a few strong backs to move the parts from storage to the front courtyard and many willing hands to fit the pieces together. All materials, complete instructions, refreshments and lots of encouragement will be supplied. Everyone is welcome. No previous experience is required. Work begins at 2:00p. If you can bring a cordless driver with a #2 phillips head or a small step ladder, all the better.

For information contact David Kuperstock at 387-0304 kuperst@aol.com or Saul Bell at 389-1647 sbell470@aol.com and let us know when you can come and how long you can stay.

Lulav & Etrog

Remember to order your lulav & etrog from the BEKI Religious School. Lulav and etrog are not used on Shabbat, but they are used on all of the other days of Sukkot, ending with Hoshana Rabba. For information, contact the School office at 389.2108 x13 or l kempton@beki.org.

Sukkot at BEKI

Shabbat & Sunday Sukkot

Sukkot begins Friday night 10 October. The Minha Afternoon services begins at 6:00p. The Shabbat Festival Service begins at 6:10p. Candle lighting is 6:02p. Morning services begin at 9:15a. Because the first day of the festival coincides with Shabbat, lulav and etrog are not used on the first day. Minha service begins at 5:45p, and candle lighting is after 7:02p.

On Sunday, festival morning services begin at 9:15a and include the use of lulav and etrog. The sheheheyanu blessing is recited by each at the first use of lulav and etrog during Sukkot. During the entire festival, meals and other activities take place in the suka. Audio recordings of some of the Sukkot berakhot are available at www.beki.org/audio.html.

Minimal Torah

The Torah of Moses does not generally purport to present the highest ideal of human (or Jewish) civilization. It does not represent the ideal world nor is it a blueprint for a perfect and just society.

Rather, the Torah often presents a minimal level of human decency. The specific mitzvot that define our obligations to the poor (e.g. the corners of our fields representing 1/60 of the produce, or the 10% annual contribution to Jewish community) represent minimums, not “ideals.” The rights afforded slaves (sanctuary for escapees, eventual emancipation, bodily protection) or war captives (limited protection from rape and enslavement) are the minimal level of human decency acceptable in the Torah’s original historic context.

While we are often inspired by the lofty ideals expressed in Torah (“Justice, justice you shall pursue”; “One law shall apply to all”), at other times Biblical laws seem “primitive” to us (“He shall surely be stoned to death”; “her hand shall be cut off”). It is important to keep in mind that these laws were to be implemented in an actual historical circumstance, and were intended to be a significant evolutionary if not revolutionary improvement over the extant practice. When the sages said, “The Torah was given in human language,” they meant, in part, that the Torah was given in a form that humanity (or at least the Jewish people) could understand, accept and actually implement.

Unfortunately, in most cases, we have not yet achieved the Torah’s minimal standards of decency. One-third of the global population enjoys fewer political and human rights and has less economic opportunity than a Hebrew slave did in Torah law. Half of women worldwide have less protection from rape than that afforded in Biblical law. Two billion poor and destitute enjoy less support, proportionally, than that mandated in Torah. Billions of animals are treated and slaughtered with less concern and less decency than dictated in Jewish law.

There are a few areas – and only a few – where we as American Jews seem to have evolved beyond the Torah’s minimums. The status and rights of women, slaves and children in America generally meet or exceed the minimums in Torah. Progress has been relatively rapid on some fronts; some among us remember the days before women even had the right to vote in America. But before we knock ourselves out patting ourselves on the back, we ought to be reminded that there is a large gap between our vision of a society in which men and women have equivalent status and the reality in the field. “You’ve come a long way, baby,” but you haven’t arrived. This observation describes our Jewish community as much as our general society.
A Message from Education Director Dr. Lauren Kempton

In preparation for launching Project Etgar, the new Middle School curriculum from United Synagogue, Ina Silverman, Grade Six Religious School teacher, and I attended an intense training session at the Jewish Theological Seminary. We were fortunate to have two sessions with Dr. Steven Brown, Director Research Center, JTS. The majority of the teaching was by Cindy Dolgin and Cantor Marcey Wagner, Curriculum Development Directors.

Project Etgar is based on the premise that all students learn differently. Pirqe Avot teaches us there are four types of learners and Project Etgar embraces and advances that theory. Project Etgar recognizes the four types of learners as Imaginative, Analytic, Common Sense, and Dynamic.

Authentic Jewish learning is not quiet and frontal; it is engaged and active. We alternate between word-based and image-based instruction. Project Etgar teaches to the four types of learners. Each class begins with ten minutes of an engaging activity called Moach Madness.

The curriculum is divided into two sections: Hebrew & Tefillot and Core. The Core curriculum contains the themes of Sifrei Qodesh (sacred writings), Biqur Holim (tending the ill), Kashrut (dietary laws) and Friendship. In Sifrei Qodesh, we study the nature and unique characteristics of the four key sacred Jewish texts: the TaNakh (Hebrew Bible), Mishna (Law Compendium), Talmud (Discussion on Mishna) and the Shulhan Arukh (Sixteenth century law code).

In the Biqur Holim unit, we plan to learn the biblical roots of the Mitzva of Biqur Holim and express this artistically and linguistically. We will examine the guidelines of both the visits and prayers of Biqur Holim. The unit on Kashrut will be ongoing and is based on Jewish identity, reverence for life and kindness to animals. The unit on friendship covers the history of Judaism’s quintessential friendship and makes connections to the concept of Friendship within a broader Jewish, biblical and historic concept. We would love you to visit our Sixth Grade and see Project Etgar in action.

KOACH, the College Outreach Department of The United Synagogue of Conservative Judaism, invites students ages 18-26 to participate in the KOACH Birthright Israel 2004 program. Students who have never been to Israel on a peer educational program are invited to apply for this free 10-day travel and study mission, scheduled for January 2004. (A required deposit of $250 is refundable following the return from Israel. Covered expenses do not include travel to and from New York from other American cities.)

Registration will take place on-line now through mid-October 2003, on the KOACH website, www.koach.org. For questions and more information, check the KOACH website or contact Rabbi Elyse Winick at winick@uscj.org or 781-784-8434.

“This is a wonderful opportunity for our youth,” commented Rabbi Tilsen. “My cousin went on the Birthright Israel 2000 program and thought it was tremendous. I encourage any eligible BEKI youth to go.”
“Hol HaMoed,” also known as the “intermediate” days of the festival, are those days between the first two and last two days of Sukkot (and of Pesah). They have a “semi-holiday” status. The rules against melakha (“work”) that apply on Shabbat and Festivals are not fully in force during this period, although we are encouraged to take this time as a holiday and to avoid work as much as possible. Our weekday morning services are enhanced with a brief Torah reading, the recitation of the musical “Hallel” section of Psalms, and a brief Musaf (additional) service. Weekday morning services thus take 60 minutes, instead of our usual 30 to 45 minutes. Afternoon and evening services are the usual length. The lulav (branches) and etrog (citron) are waved each morning of Hol HaMoed Sukkot (except Shabbat), and one is obliged to dwell (to live is to eat) in a sukka. Some morning and evening services will be held in the BEKI sukka. Some people do not wear tefillin during Hol HaMoed.

Hosanna! Hosanna!

The Hoshana Rabba (“Great Hosanna”) morning service occurs on Friday 17 October 2003. This is one of the most colorful, fun and tactile services of the year, featuring seven circuits around the shul with lulav and etrog (palm and citron) and the hoshana service in which willow twigs are beaten on the chairs. Special holiday melodies make this an unforgettable spiritual experience. Be sure to come to this “service for all ages.” The Hoshana Rabba service begins Friday 17 October at 9:15a and concludes by 11:00a.

Hoshana Rabba is a semi-festival on which work is not strictly prohibited as it is on the major festivals. It serves as a “closing ceremony” for the weeklong Sukkot observance in preparation for the concluding festival of Shemini Atseret.

Shemini Atseret & Yizkor Memorial Service

The Festival of Shemini Atseret (“Eighth Day of Assembly”) serves as a conclusion to the autumn Festival of Sukkot (“Booths”). It is marked by reading selections from the Biblical Book of Qohelet (“Ecclesiastes”) during the 9:15a service on Shabbat 18 October. Qohelet, attributed by tradition to King Solomon in his old age, is a “wisdom” book that many see as being out of step with the rest of the Torah. While it includes such well-known passages as “To everything there is a season,” it also contains statements that seem cynical or nihilistic. The Book will be chanted according to its beautiful and ancient melody. In addition, Hallel will be chanted.

The Yizkor Memorial Service is also incorporated into the Shemini Atseret liturgy. In the Yizkor service we call upon the memories of our ancestors and loved ones who, while not physically present, are part of our “Assembly.” During that memorial service, individual and communal prayers and remembrances will be offered for all of our departed loved ones. It is also appropriate to light a memorial candle on Friday night immediately before lighting the Festival candles.

Simhat Torah Celebration

Congregation Beth El-Keser Israel is the place to be for the evening and morning of Simhat Torah. Shabbat Minha services begin at 5:45p and Evening services begin at 7:00p on Saturday 18 October. Candle lighting on Saturday night is after 6:50p.

Festival Morning services begin at 9:15a on Sunday 19 October. Goodie Bags will be presented by the Sisterhood to all the deserving children at services evening and morning.

BEKI’s Contingent Largest at Camp Ramah

Fourteen BEKI Kids at Palmer

During the summer, fourteen BEKI youth attended camp Ramah in Palmer, Massachusetts, representing the largest Connecticut synagogue contingent to the camp. Campers included Benjamin Bell, Zachary Bell, Jochai Ben-Avie, Yedidya Ben-Avie, Gilah Benson-Tilsen, Tsvi Benson-Tilsen, Solomon Botwick-Ries, Joanna Etra, Rachel Forbes, Sarah Grazier-Zerbarini, Hannah Katz, Maxwell Pauker, and Matthew Prober. Joshua Prober attended as a staff member.

“The sense of community built during the summer will last a lifetime,” commented Rabbi Tilsen. “I urge parents to consider sending their children to fine Jewish summer camps, such as Ramah.”

Camp Director Billy Mencow will be the special guest a gathering hosted by Janice Wolf & Barry Etra and by Dan & Sharon Prober, at the Prober’s sukka, 115 Colony Road, New Haven CT 06511 on Thursday 16 October 2003 from 7:30p to 9:00p. Please contact the Ramah Office, 781-449-7090 x225 emilyp@campramahne.org for reservations or information.

For more information on Camp Ramah, contact the National Ramah Commission, 1-212-678-8881 or ramah@jtsa.edu. For information on other Jewish camps, contact The Foundation for Jewish Camping at 1-212-792-6222 or info@jewishcamping.org. If you would like to help send a student to summer camp, please contact Rabbi Tilsen at 389-2108 x10 or jjtilsen@beki.org. BEKI children need up to $30,000 in camp scholarships per year.
Yom Kippur at BEKI

On Sunday 05 October, the afternoon before Yom Kippur, the Minha afternoon service begins at 6:00p. Candle Lighting is 6:10p (or earlier). The Kol Nidre and Maariv Evening services begin promptly at 6:15p and end by 8:30p. On Monday 06 October, Shaharit Morning services begin at 9:00a and Minha Afternoon services begin at 5:00p. The service ends with Havdala and the sounding of the Shofar at 7:18p.

Tickets are required for adult entrance to most services. Among other reasons, this is to ensure the safety and security of the Congregation. Full-time students and military personnel on active duty may enter upon presentation of proper identification. Every person in the building must be identified before entry. Some of the ushers serving during the Holy Days may be new members. Veteran members who do not recognize the ushers are urged to introduce themselves, as our ushers wish to meet as many members and visitors as they can.

Preregistration is required for children for most programs and services. To register, contact Lauren at 389-2108 x33 or lkempton@beki.org.

Following the service, everyone is invited to a Break-Fast in the Lower Level Social Hall presented by George G. Posener as a loving memorial to his dear departed family members, whose yahrzeits we observe during this season (see story on page 8).

For a complete schedule of services please call the office at 389-2108 x14 or see the schedule at www.beki.org/schedule.html. Schedules are also available in the literature rack in the lobby, and are included with the High Holy Days mailings sent to all BEKI members.

For information on seating and ticketing, contact 389-2108 ext. 14.
Posener Yom Kippur Break-Fast

The George G. Posener Family Memorial Yom Kippur Break-Fast Fund at Congregation Beth El-Keser Israel in blessed memory of his wife, parents, sisters, brother and two precious sons was established by George G. Posener in 2001 to create a lasting memorial at the time of the yahrzeits of his family members. Proceeds from this endowment provide for a special and meaningful community gathering at the end of Yom Kippur.

George Posener is a leader in volunteer, directorship and financial support at BEKI, and a recipient of the Congregation’s Distinguished Service Award.” Several of George’s family members’ yahrzeits occur during Elul and Tishrei, that is, during the “Penitential Season.” Our members sometimes memorialize their loved ones by sponsoring a qiddush at the time of their yahrzeit each year. George has gone a step further by making his sponsorship permanent through the creation of an endowed fund.

The evening Break-Fast following the Yom Kippur Neila (Closing) and Havdala services serves as a spiritual transition from the intense introspection and prayer of the Holy Day to the joyous beginning of a new year with all of its potential for good. The Break-Fast unites and elates our community as we renew our relationships with others after completing a long period of prayer and meditation. Participants often comment that it is a high point in their religious life. It is therefore fitting that this community event be dedicated to the honor and memory of the George G. Posener family.

If you are interested in creating an endowed fund for the benefit of BEKI, or in including BEKI in your estate planning or current planned charitable giving, please feel free to contact estate planning attorney and BEKI officer Donna Levine at 787-1633 (sdsij@aol.com). You may also contact Rabbi Tilsen at 389-2108 x10 (jltlsen@beki.org) for a confidential discussion.

Book Review

Lost in America by Sherwin B. Nuland (Alfred Knopf, N.Y. 2003)

Reviewed by Rabbi Murray Levine

Nuland’s book could be described as an autobiographical success story of an orphan in a household with a physically disabled and intemperate father and an “inseparable bond of perpetual low-level tension” between his father, aunt, grandmother and brother. His love/hate relationship with his father clearly contributed to Nuland’s severe bouts of depression as an adult and his decision to change his name from Nudelman to Nuland.

There is a bit of local color as Nuland moves from the Bronx, NY to New Haven to attend the Yale Medical School. Nuland provides an interesting insight into his Jewish behavior at Yale where he recited the Shabbat morning prayers at home regularly. He writes, “It never occurred to me that my religious practices and my unbreakable ties to home were of a piece.”

The book is beautifully written, sometimes poetic in style, and often very moving. It is a must read.

Now Showing: Children’s Hebrew Video Collection

A Children’s Hebrew Video Collection comprising Hebrew Language versions of American and Israeli films is now available for our members’ use. This collection is housed in the School Lounge (Classroom 6).

Or Hadash Siddur with Commentary

Or Hadash — A Commentary on Siddur Sim Shalom by Rabbi Reuven Hammer is available in our Sanctuary and Library for members’ use. In Or Hadash, Rabbi Hammer offers extensive and edifying commentary of the religious themes, historical background, and literary context on the traditional Ashkenazic prayerbook. The commentary appears in the margins around the previously-published
Siddur Sim Shalom for Shabbat & Festivals (the siddur we use in the Sanctuary), retaining the earlier work’s pagination, making this volume both familiar and usable in public worship.

Dr. Hammer addresses exegetical and homiletic issues raised by the text. He comments on words, phrases, themes and structure, and adds pointers on generally accepted practice. A concise and informative introduction, commentary on Pirqei Avot, and a glossary are a bonus. This is a “must have” for the student of classical traditional Judaism and a great aid to the worshiper in the contemporary synagogue.

Those wishing their own copy may purchase one at the Sisterhood Giftshop, from Amazon.com, or wherever fine Judaica is sold.

Food is central to Jewish family life and celebrations. Our Western consumer culture reinforces the mitzva of ess, ess mine kind – eat, eat, dear children! But the super-sized fast-food portions have lead to an epidemic of obesity, high blood pressure, diabetes and other ailments.

Kosher Fitness asks us to be conscious when we eat through attention to the five Ws: Why, where, when, what and with whom we eat. Sanctification, moderation, and celebration will nourish us as we bring attention and awareness to our meals and snacks.
