DEDICATION

b'nai israel congregation

June 24, 25, 26
1960
Building the House of Our Lord

The new B’nai Israel Synagogue is the result of a vision and an inspiration translated into a reality by hard work and hope.

The vision was a house of G-d built in beauty in which the greatness of His ideals would find new expression.

The physical task is done. The greater task now remains; a life work to which we rededicate ourselves as we dedicate this new building. Our task now is to:

Spread the knowledge of the teachings of our G-d, to strengthen the sense of justice, friendship and charity which these laws entail; to enrich the ritual of our faith and make it express the depth of our devotion.

At the dedication of our building, we devote ourselves to this purpose and pray for its fulfillment in the spirit expressed by Moses: This is my Lord and I will beautify Him.
Dear Congregation B’nai Israel:

The erection of a new synagogue by Bnai Israel is of great significance not only to all members of your congregation but to the entire New Haven community.

I have long been impressed by the growth of religious congregations of all leading denominations throughout Connecticut. One evidence of this growth is the construction of many new houses of worship.

Active, vital religious groups serve communities in a way that other organizations cannot duplicate.

I am sure that your new synagogue will mean new vitality and an even stronger spiritual life for your congregation.

My congratulations are extended to all of you together with my sincere best wishes for many years of worship and fruitful service in B’nai Israel’s new home.

Sincerely,

Abraham Ribicoff
Governor
To Congregation B’nai Israel:

The dedication of a new house of worship is truly one of the great moments in the life of a congregation. It represents a reaffirmation of faith on the part of the builders. The Synagogue you are now dedicating is more than the brick and mortar which went into its construction — it embodies a faith that has survived the trials of the centuries.

As Mayor, I am, of course, pleased to participate in the dedication of a building that will add to the beauty of our city; but what pleases me most is the addition that you are now making to the inner strength of New Haven. I have no doubts that the words of the great sage, Rabbi Josai, who said, “whoso honors the Torah will himself be honored by mankind,” shall come to pass in the case of this congregation. I shall be proud always for whatever small part I played in encouraging this move.

Sincerely,

Richard C. Lee
Mayor
We pay tribute to

Philip Magid

The devotion of Philip Magid will always be carried in the annals of our Congregation with a sense of satisfaction. His sudden death, on Monday, March 21st, 1960, will be remembered with a deep sense of loss.

His life was a gift to us as it was to his family and to his fellowmen. His clear vision and warm humanity, his courage and helpfulness, were a source of strength to all who knew him. His devotion to the Synagogue was the outward sign of a deep, unpretentious faith and a generous spirit.

At the dedication of our new building, toward the completion of which he contributed so much of himself, we feel his loss more keenly. We are moved to devote ourselves more fully to the strengthening of the spiritual structure which the material building is to contain.
The building now stands complete. We have incorporated in it the basic ideas of beauty and hope with which G-d inspired us; and through us and our sense of need, our architect.

B'nai Israel now stands as a promise in the city of New Haven, and in the Jewish community of the city, of the continuity of the great ideals which have made Israel a unique people. In this new building, our children will be raised in the faith of our fathers, and in the knowledge of that faith. In this home of beauty, our people will learn to bring into life the ideals of justice, humanity, charity and devotion which have justified the existence of Israel in the face of difficulty and hardship.

That much is complete; a greater task now begins.

Now is the time to begin the fulfillment of the promise. We may discard the sense of urgency and crisis which building entails. We must let a steady pace of planning, working, creating take its place. We have to continue with the same sense of devotion, the endless task of living with the divine ideals which are our tradition.

We begin by repeating the old benediction: "Blessed art Thou O Lord, our G-d, King of the universe who hast let us live and brought us to this time;" we end with a prayer for continued strength, health, devotion and achievement.

May the joy of the old benediction translate itself into new power and courage.
It is with a deep sense of pride and humility that I write this message, upon the occasion of the dedication of our new synagogue. For, as we gather, at this very wonderful moment in our lives and the life of our congregation, we must surely and humbly give thanks to Almighty G-d, that He has seen fit to have us reach this memorable day.

It is my very fervent hope that these walls, which we have built, and which we dedicate to the service of the Almighty, will be used by us and a long period of succeeding generations, for peaceful prayer, as a meeting place for people and ideas, thoughts and learning. May “Simchas”, happy occasions of all kinds fill our spiritual home.

Brick, cinder block, and mortar are important ingredients in any building, but it takes people to plan and to work before these building materials begin to be put into place.

It was people who worked so energetically and conscientiously that made this day possible for us, too, and to each one of them who contributed his or her time and talents, I extend my sincerest gratitude. I trust that their pride this day is no less than my own.
The dedication of our beautiful synagogue is the outward symbol of a challenge to our inner self; a challenge that we rededicate ourselves to B'nai Israel's long and traditional purpose of serving G-d, Community and Nation.

May we, in our tasks that lie ahead, be the recipients of G-d's guidance and blessings so that we may continue to grow from strength to strength.

The Men's Club

The Men's Club was organized in March 1958, and has made rapid and solid organizational progress. This was accomplished by a series of activities under the direction of an administration headed by Charles C. Kaplowitz as President; Simon Evans, Vice President; Arthur Gorfain, Treasurer; and Jack Nankin, Secretary. The program included Sunday morning breakfasts, weekly cultural evenings and occasional social events of special importance.

An outstanding element of the work of the Men's Club was its interest in the Hebrew and Religious school. Many of its activities, by itself and in association with the Sisterhood, were centered around the school.

The second year of the Men's Club, 1959-60, can record continued steady progress. The administration this year consists of: Charles Kaplowitz, President and the same officers as the preceding year. The only addition was Samuel Kantrowitz who became Second Vice President. A fund raising program was successfully conducted in addition to its regular program this year. In this Neil Gorfain, the special mascot of the club, was particularly helpful. The strengthened financial status of the organization resulted in extension of its activities to include speakers of note in chosen subjects.

For the first time this year, the Men's Club conducted a late Friday evening service. The Theme of the occasion was, "The Ten Commandments." This has been established as part of its program and is to be repeated annually.

The Men's Club approach the new building with a deep sense of hope and expectation. May these hopes be fully realized.

The Sisterhood

A committee meeting of the B’nai Israel Auxiliary was called at the home of Mrs. J. Hochstein in the summer of 1948 to discuss plans to reorganize. The first meeting, under the presidency of Mrs. Isadore Frankel, was held on Sept. 21, 1948 at B’nai Israel Synagogue, 10 Rose Street. The program was developed around holidays in the form of suppers. The proceeds were given to the synagogue to equip the kitchen and the vestry. The Auxiliary cooperated in all Community drives.

A new constitution and by laws were written under the leadership of Mrs. Simon Arman and Mrs. Isadore Joseph, and adopted in 1958, stating the name to be the Sisterhood of the Congregation of B’nai Israel.

The officers for 1959-60 were elected as follows: Mrs. Isadore Joseph, President; Mrs. Abraham Goldstein, Vice-President; Mrs. David H. Levine, Treasurer; Mrs. Arthur Gorfain, Recording Secretary; and Mrs. Louis Rosen, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Simon Arman, Past President and Advisor.

It was voted in October 1959 to assume the financial responsibility for equipping the kitchen in the new synagogue. Various projects were undertaken to supply these funds.

The Oneg Shabbats for late Friday night services were part of the sisterhood program, and were well executed.

A library fund has been established.

The purpose shall be the spiritual, social and material interests of the Sisterhood and Synagogue.

May our Sisterhood in the future be fruitful and satisfying with significant accomplishments.
