Repairing the World One Conflict at a Time

Building a More Peace “Able” World

A Shabbat Schmooze With

Charlie Pillsbury

Saturday, February 27 at 12:45 PM at BEKI
immediately following services and Kiddush Lunch.

Charlie Pillsbury is a lawyer and a long time New Haven resident who has devoted much of his professional life to practicing and teaching the art of conflict resolution through mediation. He is currently Co-Director, Center on Dispute Resolution, Distinguished Practitioner in Residence, and part-time professor at Quinnipiac University School of Law.

From 2009 to January 2014, he also served as the Executive Director of Mediators Beyond Borders International (MBB), an international nonprofit organization. He currently is MBB's treasurer and leader of its Columbia Project team. Before his work with MBB, Charlie was the Executive Director of Community Mediation, Inc. and was a founding Board member of the National Association for Community Mediation.
