

Earth Day Schmooze Wednesday, April 21 at 8PM with Rabbi Ellen Bernstein On ZOOM tinyurl.com/BEKIschmooze

Rabbi Bernstein is often called the “birth mother of the Jewish environmental movement” because she founded Shomrei Adamah, Keepers of the Earth. In 1988, when she began, this was the first national Jewish environmental organization in the U.S. More than 30 years later Rabbi Bernstein is still writing and teaching about the importance of environmental stewardship and its relationship to Judaism. The author of several books, she most recently published an ecologically oriented Passover Haggadah called The Promise of the Land, which is available for purchase through the BEKI Sisterhood Gift Shop. Ecologically speaking, she explains, the promise of the land is everything the earth promises, and we are dependent on all its gifts.
