Corey Stone

Will talk about

Debt, Torah and Bankruptcy Law

The Torah contains specific wisdom and guidelines about debt and debt forgiveness (Shmita). Studying these laws may help us create a more just, equitable and sustainable society. Corey's professional work has been focused on debt and debt forgiveness for decades; more recently he became interested in learning more about what the Torah teaches about this and looks forward to sharing what he has learned with the BEKI community.

Corey Stone has spent his career in the consumer finance business. First as a long-time consultant to MasterCard and several big banks, then as EVP of American Payment Systems, and then as CEO of a start-up credit reporting company. Growing increasingly aware of the industry's negative impact on families, he began atoning in 2009: first as the inaugural chair of New Haven's city-owned Start Community Bank (now Bank of New Haven) and a member of the Federal Reserve Board's Consumer Advisory Council; then as an Assistant Director at Elizabeth Warren's Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, and currently as Entrepreneur-In-Residence at the Financial Health Network.
