Silverstein Exhibit at BEKI

Joel Silverstein, The Hebrew Bible: Real and Imagined will be exhibited at BEKI from June 10 to Aug. 18, with a Shabbat artist’s talk on 23 June at 12:45p.

In luscious paintings dripping with color and rich textures, Silverstein explores the complexities of American Jewish identity through the lens of his observations, blended with Biblical stories and popular culture.

The elusive term “Jewish Art” is being redefined by artists like Silverstein to be a part of the contemporary art dialogue. As one of the Founders and an ongoing Executive Board member of the Jewish Art Salon, an organization of over 300 Jewish arts professionals, Silverstein is actively encouraging Jewish artists to explore what it means to be a Jew in the 21st Century.

Silverstein’s own inspiration comes from 19th and 20th Century European expressionist painters, pulp magazine illustrators, mid-century movie epics, National Geographic photos and superhero comic books. His goal is to find a contemporary language that can describe the narratives of the Hebrew Bible, merging traditional Talmudic interpretation with postmodern takes on painting, movies, comics and...

picture theory. It is through this hybridized language that Silverstein feels a modern audience can identify with the Hebrew Bible as a living entity and a contemporary experience, not merely a traditional religious or philosophical body of thought.

References to Cecil B. DeMille’s 1956 film The Ten Commandments are a recurring motif in the artist’s work. The artist saw this epic at the age of six, and as an adult he employs the film’s technicolored images as a visual primer. Silverstein’s goal is to use both high and low extremes: master painting and comic books, the Talmud and science fiction, personal phenomenology and the study of the Torah, to create a wild experiential ride for an audience identifying what is spiritual or meaningful in their own lives.

Consider Tax-Advantaged Ways to Make Payments to BEKI

BY MURRAY AKRESI, CHAIR OF BEKI INCOME DEVELOPMENT

With the High Holidays approaching, it’s time to consider how you will pay your dues, annual appeal pledge and other payments to BEKI. Of course, you can always pay by check or credit card. In addition, there are two important payment approaches that you should consider that may provide you with federal and state income tax benefits beyond the income tax deduction associated with charitable contributions.

Donating Appreciated Securities

If you own appreciated stocks, bonds or mutual fund shares that you have held for one year or more, you may donate the shares to BEKI. The fair market value on the transfer date will be tax deductible (if you itemize deductions), no matter what you paid for the securities. Unlike a sale, you pay no capital gains tax on the appreciation. Therefore, giving appreciated shares can be much more tax beneficial than paying BEKI with cash.

For example, assume you hold stock that you purchased for $1,000 a few years ago and the stock’s now worth $3,000. If you sold that stock, assume you would pay $540 tax on the $2,000 appreciation (assuming 20% Federal capital gains tax and 7% state income tax). However, if you donate the stock to BEKI, you get a $3,000 contribution deduction and avoid paying the $540 tax.

We have established a mechanism to easily make the transfer with the help of The Jewish Foundation of Greater New Haven. Please contact Peggy at office@BEKI.org for the simple instructions. When you have made the transfer, the Foundation will sell your securities and send the proceeds to BEKI to be used as you have designated.

Payments from an IRA

The IRS permits donors age 70½ and older to make charitable contributions from their IRA (up to $100,000 per year) without incurring income tax liability. Typically, once you are age 70½, you must take the minimum required distribution from an IRA and pay income tax on that distribution. If you don’t itemize deductions for federal income tax purposes, you cannot deduct charitable contributions in determining your taxable income. Moreover, since Connecticut does not allow an income tax deduction for charitable contributions, this approach will result in a state tax benefit which otherwise would not be allowable. So paying BEKI from your IRA may help you reduce both federal and state tax. Please note that this favorable treatment is only allowed if the donor is age 70½ or older on the date of transfer. Charitable rollovers from an IRA are allowable in amounts up to $100,000 per year — not limited to your Required Minimum Distribution — so long as you have reached age 70 ½.

For example, assume you are older than 70½, have $200,000 in an IRA and have a minimum required distribution of $4,000. Assume you would have to pay 28% in additional taxes on this distribution, or $1,120. If you paid the $4,000 directly from your IRA to BEKI, you would avoid paying this $1,120 in taxes.

To arrange a donation from your IRA, simply contact your IRA plan administrator and request a contribution made payable to BEKI. Also, please notify Peggy in the BEKI office as to how to use the funds — for payment of dues, annual appeal, or other payments such as Kiddush sponsorship, Purim baskets, Yiskor book, etc.

We are ready to help you implement either of these beneficial approaches. Please contact Peggy if you need further assistance. Please note that each individual’s tax situation differs so we cannot provide advice regarding your individual situation. If you have questions please contact Attorney Donna Levine at 203-985-9033 x 5, Lisa Stanger at the Jewish Foundation, or your tax advisor.

Darshanim

Darshan – noun, plural dar-sha·nim. Judaism. a preacher or teacher of Aggada or Halakha in a synagogue.

Rabbi Tilsen has invited the following speakers to serve as guest Darshanim in the coming weeks

Jennifer Klein, parashat BeHa`alotekha, 2 June
Rabbi Murray Levine, parashat Shelakh Lekha, 9 June
David Kuperstock, parashat Qorah, 16 June
Rabbi Richard Eisenberg, parashat Balaq, 30 June

Shabbat Shalom Torah Study

The Shabbat Shalom Torah Study meets every other Saturday morning at 10:45a in the office and is an ideal setting for veteran and novice shul-goers alike to explore the scriptural readings and liturgy of the day in a supportive setting. Expertly led by Steven Fraade, with Rabbi Alan Lovins, Rabbi Murray Levine, Nadav Sela, Isaiah Cooper and others, the Shabbat Shalom Torah Study is a nurturing exploration of practice and theory presented in a participatory, non-threatening and multi-generational setting. Many members who take advantage of this unique offering feel a deeper sense of awe born of increased understanding and appreciation of the Torah reading, Haftara (Prophetic reading) and liturgy.

The program often focuses on the scriptural readings, but also addresses the prayer liturgy and other topics related to the liturgical calendar, scriptural readings or current issues of concern.

Everyone is welcome to participate regardless of religious status or background. It is suitable for mature youths along with adults.

Mondays

Rashi Study Group: I Kings

Each Monday morning from 7:47a to 8:30a adults meet in the Library Chapel to read Rashi’s commentary on the TaNaKh (Hebrew Bible). The Rashi Study Group (RSG) is reading First Kings. It is possible to join the study group for a single meeting or to begin at any time. Knowledge of Hebrew is not necessary. Rashi purported to explain the peshat of the text, i.e., the meaning in its historical, literary and linguistic context. Visitors and new participants are welcome. Hebrew and English texts are available.

Wednesdays

Hebrew Word of the Week

The Wednesday morning service (shaharit) features a 180-second “Hebrew word of the Week” to promote the learning of Hebrew. The Hebrew language is highly structured. Most words are based on three-letter roots, and are made with a limited set of verb or noun forms. By learning a few dozen roots and a small set of word-forms, it is possible to roughly translate Hebrew words isolated from any context, something less often possible in English. The Word of the Week often relates to the weekly scriptural readings or current events.

Rabbis’ Study Group

Wednesdays with Murray is a weekly study group exclusively for rabbis and clergy, facilitated by Rabbi Murray Levine. The Wednesday study group affords local rabbis an opportunity to pursue their own talmud torah (Torah study) in a “safe” setting and with opportunities to learn from each other’s experience and insight. The study group meets Wednesday mornings in the Rosenkrantz Family Library during the school year. In 5778, the rabbis are reviewing selected sugiyot in B. Shabbat. This group is on summer recess until September. For more information, call Rabbi Murray Levine at 203.397.2513.

Thursdays

Mini Morning Learning Service

The Thursday morning services are supplemented with commentary and teaching relating to the history, themes, choreography and language of the daily morning service. Shaharit service is from 8:15a to 9:15a on Thursdays; on other weekdays, the service begins at 7:00a.

Berakhot Talmud Study Group

A weekly study of the Talmud Bavli Berakhot meets in the Beit Midrash on Thursday mornings 10a–11a with Rabbi Tilsen.

The Talmud, a hypertext extended outline of discussion organized around the Mishna and based on an oral text, has no beginning or end. One can begin study at any point; now is the best time. No prior knowledge is required, but basic facility in English is helpful; students with all backgrounds are welcome, beginner to advanced.

The group will meet on 7, 21, 28 June, and 5, 12, 19 and 26 July 2018.
